STUDIES IN WHITE NO. V

Trips and Meetings Scheduled for the Month of June by the Washington Rock Climbing Club

Apparently we're all so busy with our plans for the coming summer's activities in far away parts with jagged horizons, snows, odd languages, and other non-Washingtonian effects, that we can't work up any concerted enthusiasm about a local trip. And so our schedule is, as you see, blank.

May 22nd Meeting

A jolly group met at the Dawsons' to see color slides on Local Climbing and Allied Subjects. Chairman Arnold Texler made a few announcements, and brought up the suggestion that the Club select a Sunday meeting place which would permit earlier starts than the Hot Shoppe used at present. Since the Hot Shoppe doesn't open until 8:00 A.M., it isn't practical to leave there before 8:30. The Howard Johnson and Hubbard House at Friendship Heights, upper Wisconsin Ave., were suggested, and also places in Georgetown. Some members seem quite satisfied with the present arrangement and averse to rising any
