NEVEMBER MEETING

Many thanks to another excellent show of slides by Arnold Wexler of Peruvian life and country and to our equally excellent hosts, the Rowlands, for a successful (once the projector was replaced) meeting.

DISCOVERY! DISCOVERY!

We print this with the idea that someone may want to try some more new rocks. Eventually a trip can be scheduled to the general region just west of Winchester, including Ice Mountain, and several other rocks near our new find, COVE RIDGES.

On Monday, four of us drove west of Winchester on Route 50 to Gore a small town just this side of the turn leading to Ice Mt. We turned left off Route 50 on county road 704. It is hard to see the small post with the route number on it but it is right in the center of Gore. We proceeded several miles to a very small road, county 683, leading to the left. A mile or so up this brings one to a clear view of a long rock ridge, which I think could best be reached by parking here and crossing a farmers field. However, we drove on through a boy scout camp, between two smaller cliffs, and along a much poorer road. This brought us in back of our rock ridge.
